

SUZUKI RACESAFE MEDICAL TEAM

SUZUKI RACESAFE Medical Team launches into a new Australian Superbike Championship season, all thanks to the support of major sponsor - SUZUKI Australia.

This highly trained & dedicated team of Medical Professionals includes Doctors, Surgeons, Intensive Care Paramedics, Emergency Nurses and Physiotherapists. The team will continue to fulfil the critical role as the Official Medical Team for the 2013 Australian Superbike Championships.

The 2012 ASBK season was full of thrills and spills which kept the SUZUKI RACESAFE Medical Team busy at every round. Emergency Medical & Sports Medicine treatments were provided to competitors, with the SUZUKI RACESAFE Medical Team again spearheading exciting new developments in its well established rider care program.

The expertise of the Suzuki RACESAFE Medical Team is in hot demand, with this team now providing the Official Medical Service for the 2013 Australian Motocross Championships - MX Nationals, 2013 Australasian Supercross Series and Troy Bayliss Classic. Thanks to a shared vision for rider safety with their sponsors, the Suzuki RACESAFE Medical Team has continued to pioneer new levels of rider care across Australia. Without their dedicated sponsors the Suzuki RACESAFE Medical Team would never make it to track to provide this crucial role.

"Suzuki Australia is proud to continue our successful partnership with RACESAFE Australia. Since forming this many years ago, RACESAFE has offered an unparalleled level of professional medical support to the motorcycle racing fraternity, and this has proven invaluable in so many ways. Together we have continued to seek ways to improve on-track safety and the overall levels of medical support available.

Full credit must go to this outstanding team of medicos whose possible this wonderful service. It's simply a pleasure to be associated with RACESAFE as they share so much in common with our corporate ideals, and represent Suzuki as a true partner in our motorcycle racing pursuits." Quoted Perry Morison, General Manager Motorcycles - Suzuki Australia
